

ID-LAB Identity Injection

20ml The Optimist

Emtional identity

What is this injection for?

The Optimist Identity Injection is designed for individuals who experience persistent negativity, emotional heaviness, or low social compatibility within high-positivity environments.

The injection initiates a controlled genetic modification that adjusts selected DNA markers responsible for serotonin regulation. As a result, the brain gradually increases its baseline serotonin production, altering emotional perception and cognitive framing.

This identity modification enhances:

- Positive outlook on life
- Emotional resilience
- Compliance with optimistic social norms
- Community compatibility with The Sunseekers
- Compatibility with exclusive areas assigned to "The Optimist" identity

After activation, your new identity will be registered and displayed in your SICS profile.

How to take the injection?

The Optimist Identity Injection is self-administered using an ID-LAB certified injection kit.

1. Remove the protective cap from the syringe
2. Break the security seal of the Identity Solution vial using a sterile needle
3. Insert the syringe tip into the vial opening and extract the prescribed amount of the solution
4. Place two fingers right under your jaw and feel for a pulse
5. Place the syringe where the pulse is strongest
6. Push plunger to inject the identity

Once injected, the solution enters the bloodstream and initiates controlled DNA modifications targeting serotonin production and emotional regulation. Full absorption may take 6–12 hours.

Possible side effects

Common side effects:

- Naivety
- Reduced critical thinking
- Emotional simplification
- Discomfort when exposed to negative emotions of others

Less common:

- Artificial happiness loops
- Social dependency on The Sunseekers community
- Aversion to solitude
- Identity leakage (temporary optimism in inappropriate situations)

Further information

This product is licensed and distributed by ID-LAB Corporation in cooperation with the Social Identity Credit System (SICS).

ID-LAB is not responsible for:

- Loss of individuality
- Changes in moral judgment
- Altered personal relationships
- Emotional authenticity erosion
- Exclusion from incompatible social zones